

ALPE-ADRIA-CLASSIC-CHALLENGE

Great interest for this international series!

More than 30 teams took part in the challenge of the international Alpe-Adria-Classic-Challenge (AACC for short) in 2016. And we are already approaching this figure for the AACC 2017.

In addition special prices have been given to the best ladies, pilot and navigator separately, at the final event.

Of course this tradition will also continue in 2017.

It was a hard job for the ladies to carry the heavy stone trophies.

The Alpe-Adria-Classic-Challenge 2017 starts into the new season in early April.

What makes the Alpe-Adria-Classic-Challenge so attractive for the participants?
- On the one hand the AACC is a mix of „normal“ classic car events and short „classic sprints“ with approx. 100 km length. On the other hand, the organizers have reduced the AACC to a one day event; such there is no need to participate on all days of a multiple day event - but of course you can!

www.aa-cc.eu

Naturally this has an effect on the entry fee, which is very economic for the participants of the AACC.

4 different countries,
6 different Classic,
6 different challenges,
6 times fun!

And of course it is the good organization as a FIVA-B event and the nice trophies which waiting for the participants, that make the AACC events special. In 2016 all participants of the AACC, pilots and navigators, received beautiful souvenir trophies and certificates, no matter how many events of the AACC have been visited by them.

Too early?

Certainly not, because the two first events take place in Italy, which can usually offer fine weather at this time.

At the first event, the Trieste-Opicina-Historic in Trieste, the sea, lovely hilly landscapes and vineyards are waiting for the participants.

The next Italian event, the Colli Goriziani Historic in Gorizia offers a ride through mountains and through traditional places to the participants.

But the number of participants in this classic is strictly limited to maintain the family character of the event. Therefore please register immediately!

Just 30 EUR will be necessary to be part of the Alpe-Adria-Classic-Challenge in 2017!

Another innovation for the AACC - owners of „Youngtimers“ up to the year 1996 - are accepted in 2017.

A new challenge

Please note: in addition to the Alpe-Adria-Classic-Challenge (AACC), there is another interesting classic car series in Carinthia, the

Carinthian-Classic-Cup (KCC)

This series consists of six, mostly short events in Carinthia one of them organized in Italy.

It is a special advantage for the participants in the international Alpe-Adria-Classic-Challenge that three of these 6 KCC events are evaluated for both series - the KCC as well as for the AACC. Therefore: participation in one event will be scored for 2 series!

It is necessary to register for the participation in the Carinthian-Classic-Cup (30 EUR), but ALL organizers of the KCC offer entry fee discounts for the KCC-participants.

A nomination to the KCC pays off!
